

This volume is part of the project "Lighthouse – Health Institutions: A Place of Violence for Women with Disabilities? An Issue of Ethics and Human Rights" - Daphne Programme II 2004/2006 – n° JLS/2006/DAP-1/147/W.

Index

Introduction	11
Rita Barbuto

PART ONE

1. Gender and disability from an ethical perspective	17
Rita Barbuto
2. Human Rights and public policies: how to guarantee women with disabilities	35
Laura Corradi

PART TWO

3. The research	43
Marina Galati
4. Report of the Research in Italy	49
Nunzia Coppedè and Emilia Napolitano
5. Report of the Research in Spain	81
Maria Elena Cano Casas, Margarita Caballero Ibanez and Josefa Garrido Martinez
6. Report of the Research in Hungary	109
Margit Nász, Erzsébet Földesi Szöllősiné and Eva Caesar
7. Conclusions	135
Marina Galati and Emilia Napolitano

PART THREE

8. Recommendations
---------------------------	--

8.1 Ethical Questions	153
8.2 Human Resources	159
8.3 Universal Design	163
8.4 Protection, prevention and evaluation systems of quality systems	169
8.5 Professional protocols of the health system	173
8.6 Regulations of health	177
9. Instant Report: What alliances between women are needed to create health policies for all of them?	185
APPENDIX	217
BIBLIOGRAPHY	249

Authors

Laura Corradi, she teaches "Social foundations of health and environment" and "Studies on the social structure of gender differences" at the Faculty of Political Sciences at the University of Calabria.

Emilia Napolitano, researcher in the project Lighthouse, integrated psychologist- psychotherapist, peer counsellor and head of DPI Italia ONLUS. Works in the field of disability at the S.A.A.D. (University service for the activities of students with disabilities) of the University Institute Suor Orsola Benincasa in Naples.

Nunzia Coppedè, researcher in the project Lighthouse, in charge of the Study Centre for Information and Protection of the Rights of Disabled People of the Community Progetto Sud, Head of FISH (Italian Federation for the overcoming of Handicap) Calabria.

Erzsébet Földesi Szöllősiné researcher in the project Lighthouse on behalf of the Hungarian partner MEOSZ. Rehabilitation Engineer and member of the Board of EDF.

Margit Nász, researcher in the project Lighthouse on behalf of the Hungarian partner MEOSZ. Social assistant and expert in gender and disability issues.

Eva Caesar, secretary in the project Lighthouse on behalf of the Hungarian partner MEOSZ, expert in disability issues.

Maria Elena Cano Casas, researcher in the project Lighthouse on behalf of the Spanish partner COCEMFE-FAMA.

Margarita Caballero Ibanez, researcher in the project Lighthouse on behalf of the Spanish partner COCEMFE-FAMA, Social assistant (Técnica Superior en Integración Social).

Josefa Garrido Martinez, secretary of the project Lighthouse on